THEY ARE TRAINING

The Butte Football Players Preparing for the Game.

WITH THE BIG RELIANCE

Hooper Says He Would Like to Come Back Some Day—The High School Against the Juniors.

The Butte football team will go into active training this evening for their games with the Tacoma and Reliance teams on Nov. 3 and 12. The players realize that they will have the hardest game of their lives against the strong Reliance team, and of that fact cannot be deceived. The afternoon will be spent in practice at the football grounds against the High school and Silver Bow Juniors. Then there will be another cold shower and a rub-down and dinner and all members of the team will be in bed at 8 o'clock. The windows of their rooms will be securely fastened and combination locks will be placed on the outside of their doors.

The champions will continue this course of training after the Reliance game in preparation for their trip to Denver and Salt Lake. They will leave on their trip Nov. 12 and will return on Thanksgiving morning and play the Duane College team that afternoon.

Three weeks of the sort of training that has been meted out for them should put the players in perfect condition and they will be able to give the Reliance eleven a red-hot game whether they win or lose. The sum of $300 was donated to Manager Silvers to-day to defray the training expenses of the team. This money was easily and quickly raised by several local football enthusiasts, and their thoughtfulness is greatly appreciated by the team.

In a letter received from Jim Hooper yesterday by Manager Silvers the big fellow expresses a fervent wish to again play with the Butte team after the close of this engagement with the University of Michigan on Thanksgiving day. If he cannot arrange to play in Butte he says he will accept the offer of either the University of Minnesota or University of Chicago to accompany them on their trip to the coast this fall. He says that he has learned more football since he went east than he ever knew before and it is not unlikely that a place will be made for him with the giants when he concludes this engagement at Ann Arbor.

The High School eleven have issued a challenge to the Silver Bow Juniors to play them for the junior championship of the state, the game receipts and $100 a side. The challenge stipulates that no player on either team shall be more than 17 years old. Shandian, the champion runner, is playing with the Silver Bows, but it is claimed by the High school boys that he is outside of the age limit. The High School defeated the Silver Bows last spring by 32 to 0, but the latter team has improved greatly since then. Several friends of the High School boys have offered to back them for $300. Another provision of the challenge is that neither side shall have a player of greater weight than 145 pounds except by mutual consent. The game is to be played Sunday, Nov. 10.

Soon there will be nothing left in an oval and material way to remind us of the glories of the past. In many respects the most noted, classic and historic of American race tracks—old Jerome park. In the days when the American Jockey club represented all that was best, most reputable, most substantial on the American running turf, Jerome park, the club's track, was the most noted and exclusive of our racing grounds, but the middle-class course is now its more. With its history so closely connected the most noted names of patrons of American breeding and racing—Belmont, Wagners, Lonsford, Jerome, Keene, et al., and to Jerome the mighty horses that have raced and triumphed there would be practically to make a catalogue of the champions from the long ago up to the opening of Morris park in 1883. The old park is to be the site of a storage reservoir, and Wednesday of last week there was a clearing-out sale there. First, the great bronze gates, that so long guarded the entrance, were sold for a mere song—$5. Then the grand stand, which must have cost $50,000, went for $500. Then the building and all its fixtures, the judges' stand, the paddock shed, the club house and everything else went under the hammer. And so passes Jerome, of glorious memory. And in a little while it will exist only in history.—Horseman.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Orestes A. Hickok is in Chicago and staying at the Wellington. Mr. Hickok is shipping his horses from Cleveland to California. He is taking a pretty good string across the continent to winter. There is Benetta, the wonderful 4-year-old; Hubba, the campaigner, which broke down in the race against Alx at the Northwestern Breeders' meeting at Washington park; Miss Rita, the queen of the 3-year-old pacers; Angie D., the pacing queen, and 11 others of fair degree.

"The good ones in my string," said Mr. Hickok, "are owned by Mrs. Stokes, with the exception of Hubba. Mrs. Stokes is the greatest woman horse owner in the country. Miss Rita was a wedding present from Peter Duryea to her. Her husband and Duryea owned her in common. The filly has been sent to me until I was way up to the circuit last year. I drove her a mile at Hartford one year ago on 2:22, fast enough for any 2-year-old. I sold them, I'll take her to the coast. Then when Mr. Stokes took his wife Duryea said he would give his half interest as a wedding present, and Mr. Stokes did the same. That is how she came to own Miss Rita. The filly named after her.

"But of the big stables have made money this year. The expenses are very heavy and the purses have been light. I did not start Hubba on that account. In the latter part of the season I had her in $2,000 purses, but I would take no charges. Why, Sprackles would never forgive me if she broke down for a race of that kind. She is all right and is not lame. A big horse cannot stand a hard campaign. Azote is lame now. I doubt whether he'll race another season. But I'll say this much for him: He is one of the smoothest galloped big horses I ever saw."

AND THE SNOW FELL

Mayor Thompson Held Responsible for This Chilly Snap.

AN OFFENSIVE BLACK FLAG

However, He Has the Thanks of the Rubber Shoe and Overcoat Dealers—A Negligent Weather Bureau.

Yesterday morning's fall of snow, which lingered in spots about the city all day long, is generally attributed to the negligence and carelessness of the weather bureau of Mayor Thompson's administration. For several weeks this bureau was closed down altogether and nothing was done in the way of displaying signals on the city hall staff. The consequence was that during all that time Butte has exceptionally fine weather. The weather ran itself and made a good job of it. Somebody, however, a few days ago remarked to Mayor Thompson that his administration was woefully neglecting the matter of weather, and if he was going to try to compare favorably with the Dugan administration he should not utterly ignore one of the most important features. If there was any one thing the Dugan administration particularly prided itself on it was its weather. It took great pains with it while Thompson had entirely ignored it. Mayor Thompson always gets a move on himself when anybody goes to comparing his administration with Dugan's, and straightway he got the first signal flag he came to in the attic, mounted the ladder to the city hall roof and raised it to the breeze.

This is undoubtedly what made all the trouble. Had the weather been left alone Butte might have had weeks more of fine weather. Had the meddlesome individual who tried to put a flea in Thompson's ear kept his mouth shut there would not have been a boom yesterday in overshoes and overcoats. Now, as luck would have it, although the mayor was entirely innocent in the matter and thought nothing more of the whole thing than to hang out some kind of flag and did not pay any attention to the color except to see that it was not green, he really hung out the fair weather flag. The trouble is, however, that the weather, which had been fair all the time must have come to the conclusion that the people of Butte did not know fair weather when they saw it, or else wanted a different sort of fair weather from what they had been getting, and so proceeded to switch. It is also conceivable that the weather mistook the white flag for the black flag, a mistake which any one who had glanced casually at the flag fluttering in the breeze.

A committee of citizens waited on Mayor Thompson yesterday to request him to take down the flag. Mr. Thompson refused, claiming that he had as much right to display weather signals as Mr. Dugan had, and if the weather failed to respond to his signals that only goes to show how narrow, prejudiced and unamerican the weather is. Mr. Thompson was then requested to have the flag washed, so it would not be mistaken for a black flag and this Mr. Thompson kindly consented to do.

THEY NEVER SWEAT.
This Ball Team Has Hibernated for the Winter—Maybe Forever.

The Never Sweat B. C. has disbanded for the season. The Never Sweats went through this season as they did through last without losing a game or turning a hair. Few baseball clubs have ever had a more successful career than have the Never Sweats. Ernest Lange, official scorer and bung starter for the club, figured up the averages for the season and has found that the average of the Never Sweats is 10.00 per cent, which is considerably ahead of the Baltimore, Cleveland, Missoula and Livingston all rolled into one. The club is one in which Butte takes much pride, having given the city nearly as much advertising as has the great football team. For the success of the club must credit be due to J. J. Hamill, manager; John Curran, captain, and Judge Turner, official umpire, who umpired all the games in which the Never Sweats participated.

THE DOUBLE TRACK.
Park Street the Scene of Operations in Railroad.

The street car company began work last evening in laying its double track on East and West Park street. The grading is in the hands of Winters & Parsons. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, so that traffic on Park street will not be discontinued any more than necessary, but it will be several days before the double track is completed. The company will plank the road between its tracks. The cars are now running on the Arizona street line instead of Wyoming street.
